

The News from Keith and Janie Hodges

If we keep getting our newsletter out this late it will have to become the “New Year’s Letter!” Thank you for your faithfulness in up-dating us on your lives. We love hearing from you all.

We will start with Aaron this year as the major events have been in his life. He finished at New York City’s Circle in the Square Theater School in May. At the end of the year each student was given an opportunity to perform a lead role in a play; his group did Waiting for Lefty and naturally we think he was the star!! (We saw it twice – it was fantastic.) He has had several paying jobs acting (Agora II in Brooklyn and some work with the NYC schools) but his major source of income now is what all NYC actors do – waiting tables. In February 2007 is his first, major role with the regional theater in Clarksville, TN in Red Badge of Courage for which the producers came to NYC to find actors.

Carsyn (our granddaughter) continues to amaze and impress us (we’re not prejudiced!). She still moves faster than lightning, and loves Elmo and dancing. At 2 years 3 months, she jabbers constantly and has started putting sentences together. Matt and Shannon are justifiably proud. Matt and Shannon are enjoying their new house in Winston-Salem. Matt is still catching shoplifters and others who would dare steal Macy’s stuff.

Keith is still a Senior Instructor in the Legal Division at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center. His detail to the Department of Defense as the “Assistant to the Presiding Officers” (read, Trial Clerk of Court) for the Military Commissions at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, ended this year. It was time to get back to the real job he came to do – teach. Janie remains active with Protestant Women of the Chapel and is currently having fun leading the praise and worship at her Ft. Stewart chapter.

In case you have lost us....

Keith and Janie Hodges
122 Queens Court
Brunswick, GA 31523
(912) 264.6416

keith.hodges@adelphia.net
janiehodges@hotmail.com (No dot between first and last name)
www.khodges.com

